

4 DAYS 5 NIGHTS

Canoeing Package

Arrive at our base camp any time after 4:00 PM—just across the Namibian border and be ready to kick off your adventure. Your Camp Manager will be there to greet you. Take a moment to unwind—enjoy a swim or join in a game of volleyball to shake off the travel. Dinner is served at 7:00 PM, followed by an evening around the campfire where you'll have a chance to connect with your group. At 8:00 PM, your guide will host a quick "packing talk" to walk you through stowing your kit, drinks, and essentials for the trip – the perfect time for answering any last-minute questions.

Start the next day with an early breakfast, then get prepped for the river with a safety briefing and equipment overview. You'll get the basics of paddling, what to do if your canoe flips (don't worry, you'll be in good hands), and how to handle the rapids. Stock your cooler with ice and drinks before we hit the river from base camp. Spend the morning paddling through dramatic scenery and perfecting your stroke. Lunch will be served along the riverbank, after which the journey continues downstream to our riverside camp.

Day two - rise early to another energizing breakfast and get set for the next stretch of your river journey. Pack up camp, greet the sunrise, and launch into a laid-back morning paddle—there's plenty of time for a quick swim, a riverside game, or just soaking up the scenery as the landscape shifts around you. On day three we have a re-supply at Sjambok, there you will have the option to hike up to the old fluorspar mine for a killer view of the Richtersveld and the sweeping Orange River. Each night, you'll set up camp along the riverbank, giving you space to relax, recharge, and connect with the crew beneath the wide-open sky.

On your fourth and final day, you paddle toward the collection point at Aussenkehr, clocking about 60 kilometers in total! Expect to be picked up between 2:00 and 4:00 PM. From there, hop in the shuttle for a scenic drive back across the desert to base camp, where you can unwind while your guides whip up a farewell dinner and you enjoy your last night beneath the southern stars.

The next morning, after one last breakfast with your Canoe Crew, you're free to head home—until the next time you feel the call: Canoe. Camp. Repeat.

Each mohawk canoe seats two, so you'll be paired up for the journey. For your gear, you'll have a dry barrel with a 30-liter capacity for personal items you want to keep safe from splashes, plus a 52-can cooler box to share with your canoe partner.

Water and Drinks:

Plan for at least 2 litres of water per person, per day.

If you'd like to bring alcoholic beverages, remember—only cans, plastic, or boxed containers are allowed; glass is forbidden on the river. Double-check duty-free limits at the border.

Keeping Things Cool:

Ice is in short supply out here. Best tip? Freeze your drinks ahead of time and stash them in your cooler when you get to camp for maximum chill.

Camping Gear:

Make sure your tent and camp chair are firmly strapped to your canoe—remember, the bulkier your gear, the heavier your load. Opt for a lightweight 2–3 person tent and only bring a chair if you truly need it.

Packing Your Barrel:

1. Line your barrel with a sturdy garbage bag for extra waterproofing.
2. Sleeping bags go at the bottom, followed by your dry clothes—keep it simple, changing only underwear at night and wearing swimwear by day. The desert breeze will handle drying.
3. Leave extra clean clothes at base camp for your return. Fill spare space with items you need to keep dry.
4. Always secure the lid tightly—nobody wants wet gear mid-journey.

Weather:

To monitor the weather for your trip, check forecasts for Noordoewer or Aussenkehr in Namibia with your preferred weather service.

Please use the below as a packing guideline.

Clothing – do not pack too much:

- ☞ Swimming gear: towel, sarong, and swimwear
- ☞ Outerwear: Anorak or windbreaker for summer; tracksuit for cooler winter nights
- ☞ Headwear: Cap or wide brimmed hat for sun protection; woollen hat or beanie for winter nights
- ☞ Sun Protection: Long-sleeved shirt with a collar
- ☞ Footwear: Closed shoes or booties for the river (aqua shoes or Crocs works well); dry shoes for evenings (flip-flops or sandals are sufficient, so you only need one pair)
- ☞ Gloves: For sun protection

Camping gear for nights on the river:

- ☞ Tent: Lightweight and essential (to protect from wind and insects). Tent pegs are not needed on sandy spots; use rocks to secure the corners.
- ☞ Cutlery & Crockery: Plate, bowl, mug, knife, fork, spoon, teaspoon, and dishcloth
- ☞ Sleeping Surface: Yoga mat, inflatable mattress (hand pump required as no power available), and ground sheet
- ☞ Sleeping Gear: Sleeping bag and pillow
- ☞ Folding Chairs: Optional

Beverages & Snacks:

- ☞ Special Dietary Needs: Replacement food if you have specific dietary requirements
- ☞ Water: There is no drinkable water at base camp or on the river. Pack at least 2 litres of bottled water or non-alcoholic beverages per day. Freezing some of your water is recommended to keep it cold throughout your trip.
- ☞ Snacks: Consider packing dried fruit, peanuts, chocolate bars, Super C, and jelly babies.
- ☞ Meat and Milk products: No meat or milk products are allowed across the border.
- ☞ Alcohol products: There are strict limits on the amount of alcohol products allowed across the border. Items exceeding these permitted limits may be confiscated by customs authorities. We strongly recommend that all guests review these restrictions in advance and contact border officials directly to confirm current regulations before traveling.
